- Most Record Books will have a Table of Contents at the beginning. Scroll down through the list until you find the name you are looking for. Reference the page number.

- It is important to note that the page number will be different from the physical document you are scrolling through due to the Table of Contents and blank pages.
- In the example below, we are looking for page 303. We have scrolled to the end of preview pages that are in the middle column of your screen. Blank pages end on page 66 of this book. Add that number to the page number that you are searching, 303, and your record should be around page 369.
